To: Participants in the De La Rue plc (1999) Sharesave Scheme (the “old sharesave plan”) whose options have already matured and/or the De La Rue plc Sharesave Plan 2022 (the “new sharesave plan”) other than leavers

Dear participant,

SALE OF DE LA RUE PLC: YOUR SHARESARE OPTIONS

1. Why have I been sent this letter?

As you will be aware, on 15 April 2025 the boards of De La Rue plc (“De La Rue”) and ACR Bidco Limited (part of the Atlas Group) (the “Buyer”) announced that they had reached an agreement on the terms of a recommended offer from the Buyer to buy the entire issued and to be issued share capital of De La Rue (the “Sale”). This letter explains the effect that the Sale will have on the option(s) that you hold over ordinary shares in De La Rue (your “Option Shares”) which were granted to you under the old sharesave plan and/or the new sharesave plan (when referring to both plans together, we’ll call them the “sharesave plans”) (your “Option(s)”) and sets out the choices available to you.

If you hold other options/awards under any other De La Rue employee share plan, you will receive a separate letter explaining the impact of the Sale on those options/awards.

2. What else can you tell me about the Sale?

The Sale will be implemented by way of a legal procedure known as a scheme of arrangement (the “Scheme”). The Scheme will be carried out under Part 26 of the Companies Act 2006 and requires the approval of De La Rue’s shareholders and the sanction of the High Court of Justice of England and Wales.

Under the terms of the Sale, the Buyer will pay the sum of £1.30 in cash per De La Rue share. If you would like further information about the Sale, this is set out in a document called the “Scheme Document”. A copy of the Scheme Document can be found on the De La Rue website at: <https://www.delarue.com/offer-microsite>.

3. Are the sharesave plans cancelled?

No. The sharesave plans are still operating and your Option(s) still exist. If you hold Option(s) granted in 2023 and/or 2024, you can continue saving as normal through payroll.

4. How does the Sale affect my Option(s)?

If the Sale proceeds, then:

- you will only be able to save in respect of your Option(s) granted in 2023 and/or 2024 for a further six months following the date when the court sanctions the Scheme. This is currently expected to take place on 30 June 2025 and is known as the “Court Sanction Date”;
- the tax status of your Option(s) and when you can exercise them may be impacted; and
- if you do nothing, your Option(s) will lapse and your savings will be returned to you.

It is therefore important that you read the remainder of this letter and decide how to act before your Option(s) lose their beneficial tax status or lapse.¹

De La Rue and the Buyer have worked with their advisers to prepare an “Exercise Proposal” for you so that you can choose to exercise your Option(s) in a way that should keep their tax beneficial tax treatment and allow you to then automatically sell the Option Shares you acquire as part of the Scheme.

5. Can you go into more detail about the Exercise Proposal?

De La Rue and the Buyer propose that you exercise your Option(s) immediately prior to the Court Sanction Date. Any underlying Option Shares will then be issued to you to satisfy the exercise of your Option(s) and, when the Scheme becomes effective (which is expected to be a few days after the Court Sanction Date and is known as the “Effective Date”), those Option Shares will be acquired automatically by the Buyer under the terms of the Scheme for £1.30 in cash per Option Share (your “Sale Proceeds”). The exercise of your Option(s) will be conditional on the Effective Date occurring.

¹ Note that, if you have already left the De La Rue group for any reason, your Option may be treated differently and the lapse date may be earlier. The dates and choices set out in this letter may not be applicable to you. If you wish to exercise, you should respond to your leaver communication from Equiniti without delay.

Your Option(s) will be exercised to the extent of the savings that you hold in your related sharesave savings account at the time of exercise, so:

- for the 2022 Option(s), you will exercise to the full amount of the savings you had made at the date when that 2022 Option(s) matured (that is, you will acquire the full number of Option Shares communicated to you at the time you began saving for this 2022 Option); and
- for the 2023 and 2024 Option(s), these will not have reached maturity at the Court Sanction Date, and therefore your exercise will be limited to the amount of your savings immediately prior to the Court Sanction Date, plus (for 2024 Option(s) only) any related early exercise interest payable. However, if you choose to accept the Exercise Proposal De La Rue has decided to pay you an “exceptional cash payment”. The exceptional cash payment will be paid in cash and will be an amount equal to £1.30 for each additional Option Share you could have acquired if you had continued saving for six months following the Court Sanction Date less any missed additional savings for that six-month period.

You will receive your Sale Proceeds, any surplus sharesave savings and any exceptional cash payment due to you on the same terms as the other De La Rue shareholders. Your Sale Proceeds and any exceptional cash payment, less any applicable withholdings for income tax and employee National Insurance contributions (known as NICs), will be paid to you through the next available payroll as soon as practicable following the Effective Date. Payment will be made to the bank account that your salary is usually paid into.

6. What tax will I have to pay on exercising my Option(s)?

A summary of the UK tax implications of exercising your Option(s) by accepting the Exercise Proposal (and of receiving any exceptional cash payment due to you) is set out below. If you are in any doubt as to your personal tax position, you should consult an appropriate independent professional tax adviser without delay.

7. Can you give me an example?

Let’s imagine that you were granted a 2023 Option and began saving in March 2023. Your 2023 Option has an exercise price of 60 pence per Option Share. Let’s also imagine that you save £10 per month and you have not missed any payments. If the Court Sanction Date takes place on 30 June 2025 (as is currently expected), you will have accumulated savings of £260 in your related 2023 sharesave savings account (that is, you will have made 26 of your expected 36 monthly savings of £10 per month). There is no early exercise interest payable in respect of this Option.

Exercise and Sale Proceeds

Let’s presume that you are a UK taxpayer and that you accept the Exercise Proposal by returning the form of election enclosed with this letter.

As a result of the Sale, your 2023 Option would be exercised immediately prior to the Court Sanction Date (albeit conditional on the Effective Date occurring). Your £260 savings would be applied to pay the aggregate exercise price and you would be issued with 433 Option Shares (that is, £260 divided by 60 pence). The surplus savings of 20 pence (60 pence x 433 = £259.80 with 20 pence remaining) would be returned to you through payroll.

On the Effective Date, your Option Shares would be bought by the Buyer. Your Sale Proceeds would be $433 \times £1.30 = £562.90$.

Exceptional cash payment

You would also receive an exceptional cash payment of £70 (subject to any applicable withholdings for income tax and NICs). This will have been calculated as:

- £60 additional savings you would have made if you had continued to save £10 per month for a further six months following the Court Sanction Date, meaning that you could have acquired a further 100 Option Shares if you had continued saving after the Court Sanction Date (that is, £60 divided by 60 pence);
- multiplied by the £1.30 Sale Proceeds you would have received for those Option Shares as part of the Sale, so £130;
- minus the aggregate exercise price you would have had to have paid to acquire those Option Shares out of the savings you were not able to make by exercising early (that is, 60 pence x 100 = £60), so $£130 - £60 = £70$;
- you would be subject to an income tax charge and employee NICs on this amount so, if you were an additional rate taxpayer, the income tax deduction would be $£70 \times 45\% = £31.50$, and your employee NICs would be $£70 \times 2\% = £1.40$. Your employer would pay £32.90 to the UK tax authority on your behalf and the balance of £37.10 to you.

Total payroll payment

As such, you would be paid a total of £600.20 from your Sale Proceeds, exceptional cash payment and surplus share savings through the next available payroll. If any capital gains tax (“CGT”) due, you must pay this yourself through self-assessment.

CGT

Let’s presume that there are no applicable reliefs from CGT or allowable losses that you can apply, and that the ‘pooling’ rules for CGT are not relevant in the circumstances. Let’s also presume that you have not yet used your CGT annual exemption for the 2025/2026 tax year in full.

A capital gain would arise on the value of your 433 Option Shares less the aggregate exercise price for those Option Shares as a result of the sale of those Option Shares under the Scheme. So, the gain would be $£562.90$ (that is, $433 \times £1.30$) – $£259.80 = £303.10$.

As you have not yet used your CGT annual exemption (£3,000 for the 25/26 tax year) then no CGT will be due on your gain because the £303.10 is within the £3,000 annual CGT exemption.

Total tax bill

As such, whether paid to the UK tax authority automatically through payroll (in the case of the exceptional cash payment) or through self-assessment (in the case of the gain on your Option Shares), your total tax bill on this example would be £32.90 and you would keep £600.20 (that is the gain on your Option(s) plus the net exceptional cash payment and 20 pence surplus savings).

8. How can I accept the Exercise Proposal?

You can accept the Exercise Proposal by returning a scanned copy of the enclosed form of election to escorpactionforms@equiniti.com or send via post in the provided business reply envelope. Please return your form of election as soon as possible and, in any event, to be received no later than 5pm on Monday 16 June 2025.

If you have any queries, please contact the Equiniti support team on +44 (0) 371-384-2595.

9. Are there any alternatives to the Exercise Proposal?

De La Rue and the Buyer recommend that you accept the Exercise Proposal.

There are, however, a number of other choices available to you depending on when your Option(s) were granted and their specific terms. These alternative choices are set out below.

If you are not sure when your Option(s) were granted, please look at your sharesave option certificate, which you will have received at the time when you acquired your Option(s). This information is also on the sharesave portal.

2022 Options

If you hold an Option that was granted in 2022 under the old sharesave plan, this Option has already matured and so, instead of accepting the Exercise Proposal outlined above, you could choose to:

- exercise this Option outside the Exercise Proposal, subject to any dealing restrictions (for example, if you are on a De La Rue confidential list), at any point until it lapses on the expiry of six months from its maturity date and using the savings that you hold in your related sharesave savings account;
- withdraw the savings for your Option granted in 2022; or
- do nothing, in which case your savings will be returned to you as soon as practicable after your Option lapses.

As this 2022 Option has already matured, you will have already received communication directly from the sharesave plan administrator Equiniti with further detail about these alternatives to the Exercise Proposal. If you wish to take any of these approaches you should read and respond to that communication directly.

However, if you were to choose to:

- exercise outside the Exercise Proposal, you would still only receive the same number of Option Shares and the same Sale Proceeds as if you had exercised your Option under the Exercise Proposal. Furthermore, if you did not respond to the Equiniti communication by 5pm on 16 June 2025, you would receive your Sale Proceeds at a later date. For various administrative reasons, you would then also not be able to exercise your Option until 21 days following the Effective Date and so you are also likely to lose the tax-advantaged status of this Option. This means you would pay more tax than you otherwise would; or
- withdraw your savings or to do nothing instead of exercising, your Option would lapse six months after its maturity date. You would only receive your savings.

De La Rue and the Buyer recommend that you accept the Exercise Proposal for your Option that was granted in 2022 but, if you still wish to exercise that Option outside of the Exercise Proposal or to withdraw the related savings, you should not accept the Exercise Proposal, but instead you should contact the Equiniti support team directly by email at escorpactionforms@equiniti.com or by phone on +44 (0) 371-384-2595 at least one week before the date on which you wish to exercise.

You are reminded that, if you fail to take any action and the Sale goes ahead, this Option will lapse six months after its maturity date and you will only get your savings returned to you. Furthermore, if you do not accept the Exercise Proposal or respond to the Equiniti communication to exercise this Option by 5pm on 16 June 2025, your Option granted in 2022 may lose its beneficial tax status. The simplest approach is for you to accept the Exercise Proposal. De La Rue and the Buyer recommend that you accept the Exercise Proposal.

2023 and 2024 Options

If you hold Option(s) that were granted in 2023 and/or 2024 under the new sharesave plan, instead of accepting the Exercise Proposal, you could choose to:

- exercise these Option(s) outside the Exercise Proposal during the period of six months beginning on the Court Sanction Date and to the extent of the savings that you hold in your related sharesave savings account at the time of such exercise;
- withdraw the savings for your Option granted in 2023 and/or 2024; or
- do nothing, in which case your savings will be returned to you as soon as practicable after your Option lapses six months following the Court Sanction Date.

However, if you were to choose to:

- exercise outside the Exercise Proposal, you would not receive the exceptional cash payment. Furthermore, if you did not respond to the Equiniti communication by 5pm on 16 June 2025, you would receive your Sale Proceeds at a later date. For various administrative reasons, you would also not be able to exercise your Option(s) until 21 days following the Effective Date and so you are also likely to lose the tax-advantaged status of these Option(s). This means that, on the example given under paragraph 7, for your Sale Proceeds of £562.90, instead of paying no CGT, £253.30 would be taken in tax from your Sale Proceeds if you are a higher-rate taxpayer at 45%; or
- withdraw your savings or to do nothing instead of exercising, your Option(s) would lapse six months after its early maturity date. You would not participate in the Scheme, you would not be entitled to any Sale Proceeds and you would not be entitled to receive an exceptional cash payment. You would only receive your savings.

De La Rue and the Buyer recommend that you accept the Exercise Proposal for your Option(s) granted in 2023 and/or 2024 but, if you still wish to exercise those Option(s) outside of the Exercise Proposal or to withdraw the related savings, you should not accept the Exercise Proposal, but instead you should contact the Equiniti support team directly by email at escorpactionforms@equiniti.com or by phone on +44 (0) 371-384-2595 at least one week before the date on which you wish to exercise.

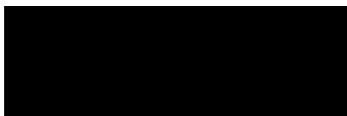

You are reminded that, if you fail to take any action and the Sale goes ahead, your Option(s) granted in 2023 and/or 2024 will lapse six months after the Court Sanction Date and you will only get your savings returned to you. Furthermore, if you exercise these Option(s) outside the Exercise Proposal, you will not receive an exceptional cash payment and these Option(s) may also lose their beneficial tax status. The simplest approach is for you to accept the Exercise Proposal. De La Rue and the Buyer recommend that you accept the Exercise Proposal.

TAX SUMMARY

In considering which course of action to choose, you should remember that there may be significant UK tax implications for you. This tax summary only addresses the tax position for a person who is resident, tax resident and domiciled in the UK at the date of grant and exercise of options granted under the sharesave plans (and at all other relevant times). The information contained in this tax summary is intended to assist you in your choice, but it is not a full description of all possible taxation implications or of all the circumstances in which a tax liability may occur.

If you are in any doubt about your tax position or if you are not resident, tax resident and domiciled in the UK, you should consult an appropriate independent professional tax adviser.

This tax summary only applies if you hold Option(s) granted under the sharesave plans and accept the Exercise Proposal.

De La Rue will give His Majesty's Revenue & Customs ("HMRC") full details of the exercise of your Option(s) as part of their reporting obligations.

Exercise of Option(s)

No income tax or NICs should be due on the exercise of your Option(s) if they are exercised under the Exercise Proposal. This is because your Option(s) should retain their tax-advantaged tax status by exercising immediately before the Court Sanction Date.

However, you may be liable to CGT on the sale of the Option Shares on the difference between the aggregate exercise price for those Option Shares and the aggregate Sale Proceeds for those Option Shares.

For the 2025/2026 tax year, if you are a basic rate income tax payer, to the extent that the chargeable gain falls within the basic rate income tax band, you will pay CGT at a rate of 18% and if and to the extent that exceeds the basic rate income tax band you will pay CGT at a rate of 24%. For the 2025/2026 tax year, if you are a higher rate or an additional rate income taxpayer, you will pay CGT at a rate of 24% on the chargeable gain.

The amount subject to CGT can be reduced by any reliefs from CGT and allowable losses that are available to you and by any of the CGT annual exemption that you have not used (which is £3,000 for the 2025/2026 tax year).

If the sale of your Option Shares gives rise to a CGT charge, you must declare the sale of your Option Shares and pay any CGT due by making a self-assessment tax return for the relevant tax year. As broad guidance, if you are not aware of using your CGT annual exemption previously and your Sale Proceeds are less than £3,000, you will likely not need to complete a CGT self-assessment return in connection with the exercise of their Options (though you must take independent tax advice if you are not sure).

'Pooling' rules

You should also be aware that there are special 'pooling' rules in relation to CGT rules, which apply when individuals acquire shares in a company within 30 days of a prior disposal of shares in the same company. These rules could apply to you if, for example, you acquire the Option Shares within 30 days of selling any other shares in De La Rue that you may hold. You should consult an appropriate independent professional tax adviser in relation to these special CGT rules if you think they may apply to you or if you are in any doubt about your tax position.

Exceptional cash payment

You will be liable to pay income tax and employee NICs on the full value of any exceptional cash payment that you are entitled to.

The income tax and employee NICs due will be deducted and paid to HMRC on your behalf by De La Rue (or your employer, if different) under the UK Pay-As-You-Earn withholding/payroll system. You do not need to take any action in this respect.

THIS FORM OF ELECTION IS IMPORTANT AND REQUIRES YOUR IMMEDIATE ATTENTION. If you are in any doubt as to the action you should take, you are recommended to seek your own independent financial advice immediately from an independent financial adviser authorised under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (as amended), if you are resident in the United Kingdom, or, if not, from another appropriately authorised independent financial adviser.
